A Boon to Humanity

A stove-pipe has been patented the joints of which slide into each other, telescope fashion. This will prove the greatest boon to humanity ever invented. Always excepting patent corsets, of course(t). It is a well known fact that we can prove by hundreds of men, that stove-pipes shrink during the summer. A stove-pipe which has been in use during the previous winter, will, when taken out of the closet in the fall be about six inches too short for the same stove. Of course we can't explain the scientific reason for this, we simply know that such is the fact. There's no telling how many good men have utterly failed in reaching the Kingdom on this account alone, and the great need of humanity has been a stove pipe that would fit the same stove and the same chimney without buying a new section every Antumn. The new invention supplies this want. It won't be half so profitable to the hardware dealers, but it will be an immense saving of wear and tear on the conscience of the householder. With one of these stove-pipes in the house life will be worth living; churches will receive the stimulus of an increased membership, and society will be purified as no other one agency has been able to purity it—not excepting the Gaz-ette (the price of which is $2 per year-third story opposite the Postoffice.) We cannot help saying, in leaving this subject, that we have always reserved a tender place in our heart for the Methodist church, because their revivals take place in the winter, after the stove-pipes are all up, and the six months' probation-ary period expires before it is time to put them up again next fall This is what we call giving a man fair shake .- Kankakee Gazette.

Not too Thin, But too Short

A tramp just arrived in the Island City attracted attention by the fact that all his raiment was in tatters except his pants, which were a foot too short, but perfectly new. They did not fit anywhere.

"I believe you stole those pants from some store. They don't look like they belong to you," said a policeman, looking at the gar-

'I believe I'll arrest you anyhow. he was marching him off, when the tramp laughed and said:

"Galveston is the funniest town i've struck yet.''

"What do you mean by that " "Well, everywhere else the police arrest you if they see fit, but here they arrest you if they don't see fit," and he glanced down at his unmentionables which struck him just below the knee, and laughed some more.—Galveston News.

THE POPULAR YOTE.

The Review is so accustomed to misrepresentation that we are not at all surprised at its claim of a popular majority of 170,000 for Hancock The Democratic policy during the whole campaign has been one of "claims," and the organs have got so much in the habit that they cannot quit it now But the Review, in the same paper which contains this extraordinary "claim," copies from the St. Louis Republican a table of majorities by states, the footings of which would disgrace any boy in the lower grades of the public schools of Decatur. In neither column is the addition correct, but the totals are made to show a popular majority of 176,000 for Hancock, which the Review editor generously reduces to 170,000, in order to show "a spirit of fairness." If the editor will add up his columns (and we know he can add) he will find that "the Superb" is only 59,600 shead, and we would suggest to him the propriety of not crowing quite so loudly until he really knows something more about the real majorities in the various states. There is not enough news from about three fourths of the Sohd South to enable anybody to tell how large the majorities are for Gen Hancock, though the practices of Democracy in that region fully justify the assumption that it is equal to the task committee.

The State officers and the Legislature of this State will take care that the public will shall not be defeated. Not the semblance of a certificate from this State can be obtained by any person claiming to be an elector, unless he is one of those duly elected by the Republican votes on Tuesday. It is conceivable that the local canvassers might throw out the votes of New York and Brooklyn fraudulently, but that would only cut down the Democratic vote and increase the Republican majority in the State. It is also conceivable that a dishonest majority in Congress might be disposed to refuse to count the votes of duly certithose electors can get the faintest color of authority to vote, the frand would end with the disfranchisement of this State, and the Republican candidates would still have a majority of all the electoral votes cast and counted. Francisco special says: Dennis Kearney in a speech on the sand lot yesterday abandoned politics, saying he was now compelled to work for his living. He asserted the time would come some time when people would point to his name with pride.

CHICAGO, November 8.—The Times' New York special says many of the most intelligent and influential Democrats of this city are interesting themselves in a movement for the abolish-SENATOR BARNUM didn't carry his ment of the present organization of the Democratic party in that city and the reconstruction of the party on a new ocratic party oughtn't to be specially basis. They believe that the party is anxious to hear anything further from gradually losing its hold on New York VICIUS, GUITATS, Ballos, Accordedly on account of the "boss" system of All kinds of STHINGS, BOWS, BRIDGES, management and the consequent fight among the factions. The primal features of the new organization are almost identical with those of the fRepublican party in the city. It is announced that the plan will be perfected and made public within ten days.

York, Nov. 8.—The following circular letter, signed by Wm. A. Fowler, Chairman of the Executive Committes of the Democratic State Committee was issued to-day.

"The reports of fraud in the elections held in this city and Brooklyn on the 2nd of November are such that if the frauds reported are established, the Electoral vote of this State will be cast for Hancock and English, and steps for a thorough investigation are now being considered. Meantime we hand herewith a blank form of the protest which you will please execute, varied in substance according to circumstances, and hand into the county canvassers as early this week as possible-not later than Thursday, the 11th unst.

The form of the protest is as follows The undersigned hereby protest against the allowance of the vote cast for Presidential Electors at an election held Nov. 2nd, 1880, in (name of place) as canvassed and returned by the Board of County Canvassers of said county. for the reason that (state facts in detail) We would respectfully request that this protest may be attached to the return of such vote, and that we may not be considered to have by silence acquiesced in those acts. MILWAUKEE, WIS., Nov. 8 .- The returns from the counties of this State nearly all official, give Garfield a majority of 30,117. This is a Republican gain of 14,176 over the vate of 1876. The New York Sun concedes a Re-ublican majority of five or seven in the House of Representatives. The Washington correspondent of the Sun says.

There is no doubt now that the House of Representatives will be Republican with a clear working majority. What the majority will be cannot be exactly stated, as several districts are still uncertain. It is likely, however, to be eleven. They have now certainly 117, and the chances are largely in their favor of having 151 members. The closest Democratic calculations give the Republicans from fiveto seven majority.

Owing to the inclemency of the weather but few teachers were in town on Saturday, not more than twenty calling at the superintendent's office at different times during the day. Miss Jennie Young's exercise in reading was deferred till the regular meeting in December; by vote Mr. Smith's paper was also deferred till that time. Eight or ten teachers participated in the prize spelling. The committee awarded the prize to Miss Laura Fulton, of Decatur. Miss F. spelled correctly forty-siz of the following words: Poniard, separate, business, scintillate, allege, sear, exhilarate, privilege, ethereal, ecatasy, excellent, supersede, pumice, acquiesce, diphtheria, espionage, crinoline, isoaceles lithography, irrretrievable, electrician tyrannicide, cozen, prejudice, precede, peaceable, crystallize, technical, scissors anglicize, corollary, oraithology, pumiceous; adding to shoe, move, dye, die, love, change, prefer, het and singe; mark the accent of the following words: Idea, area, museum, inquiry, exponent, abdomen, pyramidal and hymencal.

In addition to the programme mention ed above, Mr. S. M. McBride will read a paper on the "Benefit of the Teachers" Institute," and Messrs Mountz and Gastman will discuss "How to keep pupils employed during school hours."

The city teachers hold regular meetings at the high school. Their next regular meeting will be Saturday, Nov. 13th, opening promptly at 9 a. m. Country teachers are invited.
